In order to have more productive class times, here’s a proposal- much like the shared Google Doc for Test 1 that we were able to have discussions on about practice problems, we can coordinate our efforts to produce questions and record their answers from lecture in the same manner.

So for Thursday's reading (Ch. 23), appended to the shared Google Doc from the exam is a section for each chapter for recording potential questions we'd like to have asked in class. During and after lecture, we can record their answers, and discuss them. Even better, if you fail to come up with some questions, you can always have the doc open in class and ask one from the sheet just to look good :) .
