In the example given, under "Output", the tree displayed is a minimum spanning tree, not a shortest path tree.

A shortest path tree would include the edge 10(0)9 in the first level.

What are we implementing here, Dijkstra's (SPT) or Prim's? (MST)

Shortest path tree. I'll fix the output in the next version.